

ALBERS QUALIFIES FIRST FOR STATE SENATE

John Albers, the leading Republican candidate to replace retiring Senator Dan Moody in district 56, was the first candidate to qualify for the election. Continuing his reputation of being the hardest working candidate in Georgia, Albers said, "We are one step closer to serving the families of North Fulton. I am ready to serve and provide real solutions for jobs, transportation, education funding, water and Milton County".

Senate candidate John Albers will participate in 2 forums this week on Tuesday and Saturday. On May 8th, Senator Moody and Candidate Albers are set to make a major announcement.
